

Exploring quantum space-time with gravitational waves

Archil Kobakhidze
Faculty of Science | School of Physics
THE UNIVERSITY OF SYDNEY

Abstract:

After a brief introduction to a canonical noncommutative space-time, motivated by certain field-theoretic limit of the fundamental string theory, I will discuss how the current observation of gravitational waves constrain the scale of space-time quantum fuzziness.